HOLIDAY.

Following its custom, the Gazette will observe the Fourth of July and no paper will be issued on the holiday. The Fourth falls this year on Sunday, but as customary on such occasions, is observed on the day following.

FOURTH OF JULY.

Tomorrow will be 133d anniversary of the promulgation of the Declaration of Independence, but as the fourth falls on Sunday this year, Monday will be generally observed as a national holiday. Business will be generally suspended, and a large majority of people will spend the day on public and private excursions.

The banks and public offices will be closed, and the postoffice will observe holiday hours and many of the stores and business places of this city will close after the morning hours.

From present indications and according to the forecasts of the Weather Bureau, the temperature is likely to be milder than that which generally prevails on the Fourth of July.

TREW UP THE JOB.

A young and vigorous man, who said he walked 120 miles from a point in Maryland for the purpose of securing employment, appeared at the foot of Cameron street Thursday morning, and was put to work at $1.25 a day wheeling bricks for the new lumber warehouse now being erected at the southwest corner by W. A. Smoot & Co.

The nomad asked for a small advance in order that he might procure something to eat, but he was told by the gentleman who employed him that that would be unnecessary as he could take a lunch he had brought with him. The stranger, after eating the lunch and making a few trips with the wheelbarrow, asked to be allowed to cease work for a short time, but he was finally persuaded to keep on until the close of the day, at which time he was paid off. The man failed to report for work next morning, but appeared later when he said he would be compelled to give up the job. Before he left he inquired if meals were furnished lodgers at the station house.

PREPARING FOR IMPROVEMENTS.

Messrs. W. Demaine & Son will during the next few days begin the erection of a modern undertaking establishment on the site of their present place of business on the north side of King street, near Alfred. The new building will have three stories, and white Kitting brick and limestone will be used. A modern chapel, show room and morgue will be features of the new structure. Mr. Richard McManamin will be the contractor for the work.

BASEBALL.

The Virginia on Monday morning at 10 o'clock will play the last Olympic A. C. team, of Washington, on the old Fair Grounds. In the afternoon the Cardinals will play a double-header with the same team. The Cardinals have already defeated the Olympics two games, and it is expected the latter will bring the strongest line-up they have on Monday.

PROPERTY SALES.

Dr. S. B. Moore has sold to Mr. John E. Merchant the store and dwelling at the southeast corner of Washington and Franklin streets.

Mr. John Donnelly has sold to Mr. Jonathan Matthews a house and lot on the north side of Prince street between Lee and Union.

BUST OF WASHINGTON.

Mr. Herbert Barbee, of Luray, the Virginia sculptor, was in the city today and placed on exhibition in the rooms of Alexandria-Washington Lodge of Masons a marble bust of Washington, which is considered by all who have seen it a fine likeness and a beautiful piece of work.

DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA.

Mt. Vernon Council No. 1, Daughters of America, last night installed the following officers to serve for the ensuing term: Counselor, Mrs. John Travers, Jr.; associate counselor, Mrs. Annie Perry; vice counselor, Mrs. Mable Hammersley; associate secretary, S. A. Forrest; assistant recording secretary, Mrs. G. M. Cradlie; financial secretary, Mrs. J. H. Mansfield; treasurer, Mrs. Mary Tiger; warden, Mrs. Lizzie Tiger; conductor, Mrs. Sarah Manley; inside sentinel, O. A. Eward; outside sentinel, Mrs. Bertie Travers; trustee, for 18 months, C. A. Eward; representative to National Council, C. A. Eward; alternate to National Council, Mrs. Ada Lyles. After adjournment the members repaired to L. Shuman & Son's confectionery, where refreshments were indulged in to the enjoyment of all present.

JUNIOR ORDER AMERICAN MECHANICS.

At a well attended meeting of James W. Jackson Council No. 55, Jr. O. U. A. M., held on last Thursday night the following newly elected officers were installed: Counselor, Thomas Dawson; vice counselor, J. S. Miller; recording secretary, S. A. Forrest; assistant recording secretary, W. K. Griffith; financial secretary, J. F. Pettet; Jr.; treasurer, R. L. Merchant; conductor, O. J. May; warden, H. King; inside sentinel, James Wills; outside sentinel, H. Dawson; trustee for 18 months, George Grump; representative to the State Council, S. A. Forrest; alternate to State Council, W. L. Mullen. One candidate was initiated and considerable routine business transacted. Among the out-of-town members present was Mr. Charles B. Mero, formerly of this city, but now of Norfolk.

PRIZE FIGHT.

This is a sport which appeals to a great many people. Some men are created physically superior to others and the only way to prove this is by a trial. A controversy was had a day or two ago about the "scrapping" qualities possessed by two well known young men and a wager of $100 was placed to be secured by the successful combatant. Yesterday they went across the old canal accompanied by a dozen friends and decided the matter. The fight, which was supposed to have gone ten rounds, only lasted five, and one of the parties today is a sadder, but a wiser man.

VERDICT FOR DAMAGES.

A verdict of $2,500 was yesterday entered against John G. Hopkins, by his counsel for injuries inflicted upon Helen Bladen, when she was struck by his automobile in Zoo Park, Washington, May 31st last. The suit was brought by the father of the child Charles A. Bladen, of this city, through Attorney Oranald Mackey last Saturday. Yesterday in Justice Bernard's court a compromise from $15,000, the amount of damages asked, was effected, and the defendant consented to the rendering of judgment against him.

RUNAWAYS.

Two horses attached to a chute cart loaded with coal ran away this morning near the intersection of Cameron and Patrick streets. The horses ran several squares before they were stopped. Part of the load of coal was scattered along the streets by the runaways.

A horse attached to a wagon of the Adams Express Company ran away on King street this morning. The animal was stopped before any damage resulted.

COLLECTED THE LICENSE.

San Brothers' Circus paid their city license tax yesterday. It seems that the showmen's plan to pitch their tents beyond the corporate limits in order to escape city taxation miscarried from the fact that section 1032 of the code of 1904 provides that cities have a jurisdiction of one mile beyond their corporate limits to collect license taxes from itinerant shows such as circuses, etc.

AMUSEMENTS.

Tonight is the night when most of the toilers have a nickle or a dime to spend and King street will be crowded. This will benefit the amusement houses and it will be only natural that they will be crowded. The Alexandria Amusement Company advertises a select list of pictures tonight. In addition there will be a handsome prize given away.

Another large audience witnessed the performance at the Opera House last night, and an addition to the motion pictures, which are new and up to date a fine bill of vaudeville was offered which pleased the audience very much. To night two brand new comedies will be put on, which have never been played before in this city.

THE MARKET.

There was another abundant supply of country produce in market this morning. Prices showed but little change from those given in the Gazette last Saturday. There was a plethora of cherries, blackberries, huckleberries, gooseberries and raspberries.

PATRIOTIC SERVICE.

The Bethany Independent M. P. Church will have patriotic services tomorrow night, consisting of choral and special singing, with a brief sermon on the "Star Spangled Banner."

The only store where Regal shoes can be had outside of their agency, John A. Marshall & Bro., 422 King street.

ALEXANDRIA HARBOR LINES.

M. Jay J. Morrow, of the U. S. Corps of Engineers, has forwarded the following letter to the Mayor and City Council of Alexandria:

UNITED STATES ENGINEER OFFICE,
920 17th St., N. W.,
Washington, D. C., July 1, 1909.
The City Council, Alexandria, Va.
Gentlemen: Following the efforts of representative citizens of Alexandria, Va., the United States Congress appropriated the necessary funds in the river and harbor act approved March 2, 1907, to make an examination and survey of the Potomac river at Alexandria, with a view to the removal of a bar recently formed along its water front.

The authorized survey was made during November, 1907, and reported on favorably by the War Department (See House Doc. No. 1253, 60th Congress, 2d session). It now lies entirely with Congress to approve and make appropriation for executing the plans thereof.

Such control of wharf and dock construction was required in order that the improvement (proposed) should not be hampered or injured, and to provide for this control, the department directed that harbor lines should be established. In carrying out the instructions a public hearing was duly advertised and held at the Chamber of Commerce in Alexandria, Va., on September 4, 1908, at which representative citizens were present and expressed their views, and after the requested modifications of the suggested lines had been made, they expressed their satisfaction in the matter.

On June 2, 1909, the secretary of war approved the lines, which makes them now the lawful harbor lines for the port, to which structures erected in the future must conform, or subject the builders thereof to the penalties prescribed by law.

These lines are shown and described on the accompanying blue print. The monuments marking their extremities have not yet been placed, but will be sometime in the near future.

Definition:
1. Bulkhead line is the limit to which solid construction may be built.
2. Pier head line is the limit to which open pile structure may be extended beyond the bulk head line.

Very respectfully,
JAY J. MORROW,

Major, Corps of Engineers.

Accompanying the letter is a map of the harbor showing the lines, high and low water marks, etc., and also the following DESCRIPTION.

Beginning at a point, A, on the easterly extremity of Jones' Point on the right bank of the Potomac river, below Alexandria, Va., which point is marked by a concrete monument, inscribed A. H. L.—A, the bulkhead line bears N. 1° 22' W. a distance of 3792 feet to B, its intersection with the south building line of Wolfe street produced, said point of intersection being 750.0 feet distant from the easterly building line of Lee street. Thence bearing N. 88° 33' E. the bulkhead line continues to its intersection with the south building line of Pendleton street, produced, point C, a distance of 3361.3 feet from B, and 695.0 feet easterly (measured on the aforesaid south building line of Pendleton street), from the east building line of Lee street; thence the bulkhead line continues, still bearing N. 88° 33' E. a distance of 1919.6 feet to its intersection with the north city limits of Alexandria, points D witnessed by a concrete monument, bearing N. 80° 30' W. and 530 feet distant from aforesaid point D, inscribed A. H. L. D., marking the northerly termination of the aforesaid bulkhead line.

The pier head line is parallel to and 100 feet distant from (measured at right angles and in an easterly direction) the bulkhead line as aforesaid described, between A, B and C. From said point C it diverges at an angle of 04° 14' from the direction of the bulkhead line, bearing N. 12° 48' E. a distance of 1922.4 feet, to its intersection with the northerly city limits line, being 772.2 feet from the monument defining the northerly termination of both the bulkhead and pier head lines.
